Spooky Family Movie Night at the Biggs Museum Halloween Costumes Encouraged

Dover, DE (September 20, 2013) – On Saturday, October 26, 2013 the Biggs Museum of American Art will host a Spooky Family Movie Night featuring hit movie ParaNorman. ParaNorman is an animated adventure about a little boy, Norman, who is able to speak with the dead. When his small town is invaded by zombies, ghosts and witches, he is the only one who can save the day. ParaNorman is rated PG. The movie will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Prior to the movie showing, starting at 6:00 p.m., Biggs Museum staff will conduct “Spooky Flashlight Tours” geared toward families and children of all ages. Children and families are highly encouraged to wear their Halloween costumes and bring a sleeping bag to sit on as seating is limited.

“Our movie night is back due to popular demand - this time with a spooky twist,” says Beccy Cooper, Education and Programs Manager at the Biggs Museum of American Art. “It’s a great opportunity for children to get a second use out of their Halloween costumes and get into the Halloween spirit!”
